This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

INTRODUCTION.

EDUCATIONAL AND POLITICAL INTERESTS.

The period covered by the following records is filled with the accounts of affairs of vital importance in the growth of the town. During these years were laid in fact the foundation of its coming prestige as an industrial center. The first move, however, was in the direction of forming a system of government satisfactory to all concerned, not only in the progress here but everywhere in the state. In the settlement of this matter discussion followed discussion, and meetings and conventions were of common occurrence.

In these controversies Derryfield showed its good judgment by refusing to participate in the arguments to any extent, and finally accepted the "civil constitution of the state of New Hampshire, as presented by the convention at Concord, October 31, 1783," with a decided majority. The first annual election under the new constitution occurred March 1, 1784, and resulted in a majority vote for Josiah Bartlett for president, while General Nichols led in the ballot for state senator. Hon. Mesech Weare was elected to the presidency, being the first executive officer elected by the people of New Hampshire. This constitution was not changed until 1792, when some modifications were made, among others the name of president being altered to governor. Provision was made to have the legislature divide the state into twelve senatorial districts, and that the council be elected from districts by the people, the same as the senators. Derryfield, under this constitution, was classed with Litchfield in the representation to the legislature. At the joint meeting held March 26, 1793, Major John Webster of Derryfield was elected the first representative. September 7 of this year John Stark was elected the first town treasurer, that office having been previously styled "counter." It was voted to hold the meetings in the towns alternately. As long as this arrangement of elections was followed the Derryfield meetings, which came just before the regular town meetings, were held at the barn of Captain Samuel Moor at Goff's Falls, an ox-cart being used for the moderator's desk.

With its representation in the state legislature and Derryfield's broadening history the first action of sufficient moment for our notice was the vote at a special meeting October 30, 1792, "to have the Gore of land called Henrysburgh annexed to the Town." For some reason unexplained in the designation of the town line in the charter a corner of "waste land," situated between the northern boundary of Derryfield and the southwestern limit of Chester, comprising about two square miles in area and most frequently called Harrysborough, had not been included. The settlers on this strip were now receiving the advantages of the roads built without helping to pay for them. The annexation was effected with the agreement of Chester. The following year, 1794, the Hon. Samuel Blodget began to build his canal at the falls, and an era of prosperity seemed to have dawned at last upon the town.

The year 1795 bore the first fruit in the cause of education in the town in the building of a schoolhouse at the falls, near the site of the present house at Amoskeag. It was built by private subscription, and the same year a social library was originated by some of the citizens of Derryfield and Goffstown. In the warrant for the annual election for 1797 the ninth article read: "To see if the town will vote to pay for the schoolhouse which is now Built and to Build two more for the town's use." The result was discouraging to the champions of education at that meeting, but the following year, March 5, 1798, a vote to that effect was carried, and the cause of education may be said to have at last gained a foothold.

*STARK'S FORT.

Captain Goffe's house, standing near the mouth of Cohas Brook, had been used as a place of refuge upon an alarm of Indians. But this was inadequate to afford protection for all who sought safety, and in the summer of 1746 the construction of a larger and more conveniently situated garrison was intrusted to Lieut. Archibald Stark. Accordingly he, assisted by the inhabitants in this vicinity, built what became known as Stark's Fort on the west shore at the outlet of Swager's (corruption of Sebago, meaning place of water), later called Fort Pond, now Nutt's, a large and substantial garrison. This was about one hundred and twenty-five feet square. A well was dug and stoned between the building and the pond, which is still to be seen, though nearly filled with debris. The situation was most favorable to the surrounding inhabitants, some of whom were living about the Falls, others at McMurphy's mills, and at Cohas Brook. No doubt it contributed its share toward the safety of the frontier during that anxious period.—EDITOR.

The following communication directed to Governor Wentworth and copied from Vol. 1, p. 297, of the manuscript collection of correspondence now in the State Secretary's office seems worthy of incorporation here:

May it please your Excellency

I got to Pennecook on Saturday erly in the morning and and notwithstanding I sent monday after I left the bank yet my bread was not but but there was about 250 wet Baked which supply 20 men which I sent to Canterbury as soon as I got here and I keept the Baker and several soldiers to baking all Sabath Day and purpused to march on monday as soon as possable but about midnight 2 men came down from Contucook and Brought the unhappy news of 2 men being killed and the 2 men that came down told me that they saw the 2 men ly in their blood and one man moor that is missing and hereing I was here desiered me to Assist in making sarch so that I am with all Expedition a going up to Contucook and will do what I can to see the Enemy I shall take all possable care for the protection of the frontiers and and destruction of the Enemy the Indians are all about our frontiers I think there was never more need of soldiers than now it is enough to make one's Blood boyl in one's veins to see our fellow creatures killed and taken upon every quarter and if we cannot each them hear I hoop the General Cort will give incorrigement to go and give them the same play at hom—the white man that is killed is one Thomas Cook and the other is Mr. Stevenes the ministers negro these are found and one Jones a soldier is not found they having but five soldiers in the fort have not as yet sought much for him I am going with all possable Expedition and am your Excelency's Humble and Dutifull subject and servant.

JOHN GOFFE.

signed by himself and others praying for a further supply of soldiers to protect the frontier, says in part:

That ye news of a formidable armament sent from Canada to Crown Point obtained such credits with the Government of ye Massachusetts Bay as induced them to provide a prodigious reinforcement to strengthen their western barrier—That such is our situation that as the rivers Hudson & Connecticut lie most exposed to incursions from Crown Point, so ours is the next, and the experience of this whole war has taught us that whenever any smart attack has been made upon any of the settlements on Connecticut river the enemy have never failed of sending a considerable number to visit our river—That while our ordinary business was hoeing we could work in such large companies as not to be in such imminent danger of being massacred by the enemy, which now haying and English harvest comes on will be impracticable without vast detriment to the whole and utter ruin to some. We therefore beg of your Excelency & Honors to take our deplorable case into consideration.

In the Journal of the House of Representatives Saturday, October 24, 1747, we find it recorded:

Voted That ye Muster Roll of Capt John Goffe for four men posted at Blaisdells Perhams & Fosters Garrison near Amoskeag from 30th Augt 1746 to ye 29th Sep^t following amounting to twelve Pounds for Prov. & ammunition be allow'd & pd out of ye money in ye Treasury. Sent up by Mr. Knight.

The Report of the Committee appointed to settle with the past Selectmen and Constables.

We find that the Selectmen for the year 1791 Received from Constable Gamble £ 2—10—11 in Specia and also 11/3 or 12/ in lieu of £ 1—10—0 Indents. Which sums they have not accounted for: And is due to the Town. Also on settlement with Constable Hall We find three pounds — seven shillings and four pence due For which sum he gave his Note to the Town

Also On Settlement with Constable Huse: We find:

That he had over pay'd his Specie Tax: The sum of £ 1—7—0— To the Town: But there is £ 6—9—3 in Certificates, and £2—16—11 in Indents due from said Constable to the Town.

Also on Settlement with Constable Young We find A Ballance of Thirty-Six pounds five Shillings & 2^{d} Due to the Town.

Also on Settlement with Ensign Daniel Davis— a Selectman for the Year 1792— We find there is 19/3 of Town money in his hand: Which he received from the State, for the maintenance of Bridget Woods (Which Bill was £9: 18: 4½—) The he Received for her Maintanance which cost him 4/9 in collecting & 3/ he says he forgot to put into the Bill— Being 7/9 Which he demands out of the Towns part.
